Ole Bull Kammerkor (Ole Bull Chamber Choir)

The choir was founded January 2015. In these 2 ½ years, we have presented 9 different concert programs in 16 concerts. OBK has participated in 3 choral competitions. This summer it was London International A Cappella Choral Competition, where the choir received the «runner up» position. OBK has performed works of more than 60 different composers from the 14th century till present day.

Ole Bull (1810-1880) was a famous and sought-after violinist. He was not afraid to take artistic risk and was by many considered to be ahead of his time. Even though he is not associated with choral music, Ole Bull was, and still is, a central figure on the Norwegian music scene and his life and career has put its mark on the arts scene in Bergen and Norway. Ole Bull is an inspiration for us in our artistic approach.

Jon Flydal Blichfeldt

Jon is the artistic director and conductor of Ole Bull Kammerkor. He has studied cello playing and choral conducting at the Grieg Academy in Bergen and at the University of Tromsø. He has been working as a choral conductor in Bergen for almost 20 years. Central in his career has been leading the male student choir of the Bergen University, Mannskoret Arme Ridderne for 8 years, and the mixed choir Vokalensemblet Skrik for 10 years. At the present he is also the conductor of Bergen Mannskor and Osterøykoret.

Simen Bredesen

Simen is studying classical singing at the Grieg Academy. Amongst his teachers, we find Solveig Kringlebotn, Marit Tøndel Bodsberg and Harald Bjørkøy. For two years he has been a singer of the Norwegian Youth Choir, and is also the conductor of the student male choir Laudes
